BUSINESS CARD FOR 1861.

FIHE undersigned, baying determined to transact business bereafter upon the OASH SYSTEM, begs leave to return his thanks to his old friends and customers for their pairscage heretofore, and to solicit their favor for the future.

Self preservation—the first law of nature—impels him to change his present manner of doing business for that of CASH; insemuch as many upon whose promptness he has relied for paying his own indebtedness are owing him for two, three and four years. He carnessly heaveness such to come forward and close their accounts and enable him to be equal to the emergencies of the present times. A merchant must be PROMPT OR PAIL; and this is impressible unless he is sustained by an equally pune tual or cash custom.

The same respectful couriesy, which he flatters himself has always been extended to those who have seen proper to deal with him, shall be continued, and no effort on his part, shall be wanting to make his business infarcourse both pleasant and desirable to all who may favor him with a call. Hoping ever to merit a share of the patronago of a generous public, he "hangs his banner upon the outer wall" with this motte clearly inscribed:

THE GLOBE: The Official Paper of Congress.

The Official Paper of Congress.

I PUBLISH now my unual Prospectus of The Daily Globe, and The Congressional Globe and Appendix, to remind subscribers, and inform those who may desire to subscribe, that Congress will meet on the first Monday of next December, when I shall resume publishing the above named papers. They have been published so long, that most public men know their character, and therefore I deem it mediess to give a minute account of the kind of matter they will contain a report of the Dehates in both branches of Congress as taken down by reporters, equal, at least to any corps of short hand writers in this, or in any other country. A majority of them will, each, be able to report, verbatism, ten thousand words an hour, while the average number of words spoken by fluent speakers rarely exceeds seven thousand five hundred words an hour. When the debates of a day do not exceed forty-five columns, they will appear in the Daily Globe of the next morning, which will contain, also, the news of the day, together with such editorial articles as may be suggested by paning events. together with such editorial articles as may be suggested by passing events.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix will contain a report of all the Debates in Congress, revised by the speakers, the Messages of the President of the United States, the Annual Reports of the House of the Executive Departments, the Laws and passed during the sension, and copious indexes to all. They will be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quartosine, each number containing, sixteen pages. The whole will make, it is believed, at least 2,000 pages. This is asknowledged to be the chapest work ever sold in any country, whether a reprint or printed from manuscript copy, taking for data the average number of words it contains.

The coming session, will, without doubt, be unusually interesting, because the debates will, in a great measure, be upon the policy of the President elect, and the Globe will be, as it has been for many years past, the only source from which full debates of Congress can be obtained

The Congressional Globe and Appendix pass free through the mails of the United States, as will be seen by reading the following Joint Resolution passed by Congress the 6th of August, 1852:

Leint Resolution passed providing for the distribution of the Joint Resolution passed providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.
